Nazi Night Raiders Stage 6-Hour Attack on London

Bombers Roar Over 500-Mile Coastline, Hit at Troops, Airports, Naval Center.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 27 — German "chain raiders" bombed the London area for six hours last night and early today in the longest raid of the war and attacked 300 miles of English coastline with the most intensive night raids yet directed against this entrenched island.

For the first time the Germans employed the mass raid for a night attack, sending 40 bombers to attack one town in northeast England. They dropped high explosive bombs there, demolishing two shops and killing at least three persons.

One of the bombers from this wave was shot down by a Spitfire. The crew of three, uninjured except for scratches, was captured by a home guardsman. Other scattered day forays were reported from "Hells corner" in the southeast. One Nazi plane was shot down in the channel.

Little damage and few casualties were reported from the night-long raids which kept much of Britain awake.

The government said some bombs were dropped "on one district in the outskirts of central London" and others in the suburbs. Several inmates of a poor house in a southeastern town were killed in that town's worst raid of the war, and a number of casualties also were reported in the Midlands, where there were three heavy night raids.

Meanwhile, Britain's own bombers were busy carrying the war to their enemies.

The air ministry announced that "RAF bombers delivered a successful attack upon a number of important military objectives in Germany and Italy last night."

(The Italians announced a "few" bombs hit the Fiat factory at Turin and a sanatorium there, but said that a British bomber was shot down near Milan. Berlin had a 40-minute alarm in the night.) The government said bombs fell "on one district on the outskirts of central London," but "Little damage was caused and the number of casualties was small." Other bombs fell in the suburbs. Britain also appeared to be striking back at her continental enemies during the night. Berlin had a 40-minute air raid alarm and Berliners heard firing in the distant west. There were two alarms in Switzerland, about an

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, August 28
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A VERY lively and enterprising day, with the forces and faculties keyed up to some worthwhile achievements, is read from the prevailing astral operations. The mentality will be disposed to be keen, alert and aggressive as well as being sound, purposeful and dependable, even though prone to be attracted by creative and expansive objectives of major proportions. In very determined attack the support of superiors, employers or those in power is assured. Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of excellent opportunity for expansion and growth, especially where new ideas and projects of major importance are practically developed and aggressively attacked. This energetic and strenuous personal initiative may prove amply convincing to employers, superiors or those whose cooperation for promotion and development is essential. Group action is destined to be definite and de-clative, particularly where social, humanitarian or even political issues are at stake. A child born on this day should be energetic, enterprising, forceful and resourceful, attaining little and prestige by its personal initiative.

CITY SCHOOLS SET TO OPEN SEPT. 9

Junior High Principals Now on Job To Plan Year.

Marion public schools will open Monday morning, Sept. 9. Supt. E. E. Holt made the announcement today following a flood of telephone calls to the administration in the last few days. The date already has been published several times but the superintendent's notice today was to generally inform parents and pupils when school bells will ring again.

Junior High school principals yesterday began their regular two weeks of preliminary work at their offices. James E. Frey at Thomas A. Edison School, W. E. Orcutt at Central, and Cecil W. Gabler at Vernon Heights. The junior high school principals will welcome pupils and parents who wish to discuss problems in relation to the coming school year. They will be at their offices from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

That Henry street be made a stop street at Congress street. That a request for a reserved parking zone for an automotive supply company be refused because similar requests had been turned down in the past. The company had asked for a spot at the curb where it could change tires on customers' cars and make other installations.

In the informal session in the mayor's office preceding the open meeting, it was decided to defer action on a proposal that Wilson avenue be made a thoroughfare and that intersecting streets be made stop streets.

In the discussion some councilmen questioned whether Wilson avenue traffic equaled in volume the north-south traffic on intersecting streets and pointed out that Wilson avenue was not a completely paved street.

Petition Returned

Council turned back to the signers a petition that a concrete curb and gutter be built on Darius street from Unchaper to Mount. The petition lacked sufficient signatures. When this was discovered at a recent meeting, some of the signers asked to have the improvement extend from Unchaper avenue only to Davis street, since the petition bore a sufficient percentage of signers for that portion of the proposed project. City Solicitor Kenneth A. Robinson said the petition should not be changed but that a new petition should be circulated for the shortened project.

Ordinances authorizing extension of six-inch water mains on Merchant avenue south from Church street for 100 feet on Fahy street for distance of 50 feet between Silver and Silk streets were passed.

WILLKIE

Jell L. Willkie gave his approval today to an augmented western campaign tour which will carry him 7,000 miles.

The itinerary as announced by Republican presidential headquarters calls for a half dozen major speeches in the last 17 days of September. Interspersed with 60 to 70 radio platform appearances and brief talks in 18 states.

Travels Chairman

Willkie issued his latest denunciation of preparedness plans at a press conference yesterday by advocating that "President Roosevelt" "delegate substantial authority" to the national defense advisory commission and designate one member chairman.

"It is time for bunk and conversation to end and time to get the machinery going," Willkie contended. "No president can possibly give time or consideration to all the problems that such a board has to solve. Without a directing hand, he said, 'jeopardies' of 'inefficiency and failure' are bound to arise."

At "Home" for awhile Willkie expects to remain in and around Rushville, Ind., until Sept. 14 when his western tour will begin. The broad itinerary follows:

September 14—Leaving Chicago, there will be brief stops in such cities as Joliet, Ottawa, Peoria, Galesburg, Rock Island, and Moline, and Davenport, Iowa, plus other rear platform appearances in Iowa cities not yet selected.

September 16—Major address at Coffeyville, Kansas, in the afternoon; brief evening stop in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

September 17—Stops in Amarillo, Texas, and at several New Mexico towns, including Albuquerque.

September 18—Arrive in Los Angeles; that afternoon and remain until the following night.

September 20—Tentative stops at Bakersfield, Tulare, Stockton, Sacramento and Oakland, California.

September 22—Leave at noon for Portland, Oregon.

September 23—After visiting Portland in the morning, stops in Tacoma and Seattle, Washington.

September 24—Spokane, Washington, and Butte, Montana.

September 25—Stops at several points in Montana, and at Dickinson, Bismarck, Jamestown, and Fargo, North Dakota.

September 26—Aberdeen, Wellston, Huron, Mitchell and Sioux Falls, Iowa.

September 27—Several stops in Iowa, including Fort Dodge, Webster City, Iowa Falls, Cedar Falls and Dubuque.

Then the train will go to Detroit where Willkie will speak on September 30 before the National Federation of Republican Women's Clubs.

WILLKIE TO BE ASKED TO SPEAK IN OHIO

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—Wendell Willkie will be asked to make speeches at Toledo and Cleveland Oct. 1 as he returns eastward from his September speaking tour, David S. Ingalls, Republican national committeeman, reported here today.

Director of the G. O. P. presidential nominees Ohio campaign, Ingalls said he had sent the request to National Chairman Joseph Martin, suggesting that Willkie address a luncheon assembly on that day in Toledo and a meeting in Cleveland public auditorium that night.

The schedule called for brief talks at points between the two cities including Sandusky, Port Clinton and Lorain.

Also submitted to Martin was a request that Willkie arrange frequent railroad platform appearances when crossing the state and that a speech be planned for Cincinnati the latter part of October if possible.

HOUSEWIVES' BUYING BOOSTS MEAT COSTS

Farm Beef Prices at Three-Year High.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The American housewife's increased buying of beef and pork has helped to lift the farm price of cattle to the highest level in three years and of hogs to the highest in almost a year.

Livestock men said that business stimulation and employment resulting from the national defense program apparently were improving the meat consumer's buying power. They cited army maneuvers in various sections of the country as a factor in improved consumption.

Housewives are paying more for most meat cuts than they did a year ago. Retail prices here last week on the whole were the highest of the year. Wholesale porks have advanced to 23 cents a pound, highest since last September. Top loins of beef were quoted around 35 cents a pound, wholesale, 25 per cent higher than a year ago.

Yesterday's 23 to 50 cents advance brought the average price of killing steers in Chicago to around $11 per hundredweight, highest since the fall of 1937. The extreme top paid for choice cattle was $12.00. Around $13 was paid earlier in the year but this was for specialty cattle which sold far above the market for ordinary beef. The average weekly price of choice and prime steers is now around $12, highest since April, 1939. In 1937 this peak soared to $18.

In the hog trade a $7.50 low was paid yesterday, highest since October, 1939, when hog quotations were retreating after the September bulge induced by the start of the European war.

West England and penetrating inland to the Midlands.

All raid precaution officials considered the damage small in relation to the intensity and length of the raids, although property was destroyed and there were a number of casualties, some fatal.

Previous night raids have included simultaneous thrusts at widely scattered points, with each attack lasting only briefly.

Seen As Nuisance Many observers thought the "churn raid" was executed for its nuisance value — to keep Londoners from sleeping and to hold up production.

The all-clear signal was sounded about 3:40 a. m., slightly more than an even six hours after the first alarm. (Censorship prevents publication of exact times.) It was the third air raid of the day for London and the seventh since Saturday morning.

The Germans also attacked the Midlands last night, where fires were started and industrial property was damaged in two towns and some persons were killed, and in the northeast and south-east of England.

These raids capped yesterday's unusually intense warfare all over Britain, when, according to British figures, 48 German planes were brought down. The government listed 15 British planes as missing, with 11 of the pilots safe.

German Claims Differ (The Germans on the other hand claimed 74 British planes were destroyed against 18 German planes lost.)

Convalescent patients in a London hospital were taken to trench shelters during the raid and others too ill to be moved out of the building were placed on mattresses under their beds. The hospital was shaken by the explosion of two bombs in the vicinity but no damage was done to it.

Asks Delaware Study The women also endorsed a resolution adopted by members of the legion yesterday recommending a study of conditions of the girls in industrial school at Delaware.

Mrs. Frederick Walls of Toledo, was elected state treasurer of the organization over a field of four candidates.

Mrs. J. E. Giffin of Bellaire, was unopposed for the office of president and Mrs. Frederick Swing of Cincinnati, was elected vice president without opposition.

Would Start Early The Legion expressed its opinion yesterday concerning national legislation with approval of a proposed program which would establish youth reserve officer training corps in high schools throughout the state.

Delegates recommended the department commander appoint a committee to study the feasibility of establishing such units.

Colleges and universities supported by public funds should be required to give military training, the convention declared. Other defense resolutions recommended approval of war department proposals for procuring military personnel, and enactment of legislation to ban un-American groups and suppress subversive activities.

"The United States should forthwith take whatever steps may be necessary to insure adequate defense of America, regardless of the outcome of the present war," the convention declared.

Heated debate developed over proposals for increased aid to Great Britain repeal of the United States neutrality amendment and a stand on conscription. Resolutions on these subjects ultimately were tabled.

Hill Un-Americanism A resolution to protest against educational systems employing instructors who teach un-American or un-patriotic doctrines.

The traditional parade followed yesterday's business session. A three-mile-long procession moved through Toledo's downtown district. Legion officials said 19,000 took part and estimated 100,000 spectators looked on despite rain and cold weather.

WHEELER MISQUOTED WORDS, BRITON SAYS

Paish Denies Saying He Led U. S. to War.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Sir George Paish, British economist, disagreed today as to just what Sir George said about his connection with the entry of the United States into the world war.

Wheeler's account, which brought demands in the senate yesterday for Sir George's revision from the country, was to this effect:

"I am responsible for getting this country into the last war and I intend to get it into this one."

Sir George on the other hand said this was what happened:

He called on Senator Wheeler in the course of their talk he mentioned that as a British financial advisor during the world war, he had "placed information at the disposal of my government." This information was subsequently turned over to the United States by the British government and its character was such, Sir George asserted, that it influenced the decision of the United States to enter the conflict.

SENATE

First attorneys to represent the men.

Lodge's proposal restricting service to the western hemisphere conformed to a similar provision in legislation authorizing the President to order the national guard and army reserves into active service.

Taking the guard legislation as a model, the senate proceeded to approve other amendments moulding the conscription bill along similar lines.

It adopted an amendment by Senator Gurney (R-S.D.) striking out a provision authorizing the national labor relations board to institute court proceedings to force the re-employment of a conscript who had completed the years training specified in the bill.

It provided for civil court trials of draft "dodgers" instead of hearings before military tribunals and voted to prohibit any person connected with the military establishment from becoming a member of a local draft board.

Without audible objections, the chamber wrote into the measure an amendment by Barkley to authorize the appropriation of funds to carry out the terms of the bill, thus clearing the way for quick congressional action to provide the money needed.

With these and other amendments out of the way, Barkley pronounced the bill "nearly ready" for the final vote, except for action on the three substitutes.

These are proposed delays in one form or another of the actual induction into military service of the young men from 21 through 30 years old who would be required to register under terms of the Burke-Wadsworth measure.

Senator Maloney (D-Conn.) proposed that one-year voluntary enlistments be tried until January 1, if these failed to fill the army's quota, conscription would go into effect.

Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) advocated in his substitute that conscription be postponed until congressional action on a national emergency.

A third substitute sponsored by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) would set up a system of voluntary enlistment linked with the voluntary training of college students.

carrying out of this tenet when ever he entered negotiations, won him the respect and the faith of the men to whom he dealt.

Radio air pressure and force were not a philosophy of dealings between employer and employee. Shortly after his severance from day anniversary when national officers, trustees and directors of the order honored him with a party at Cedar Point, Mr. Zimmerman told a reporter:

"I have learned that the things you gain by force disappear when your force wears off—and sooner or later it will wear off if your policy is to get things that way."

Mr. Zimmerman believed that the success of arguments lay in quiet logical ironing out of differences and he once said that his idea when he entered a conference room was to leave it with both sides friendly.

Promotions With Erie

On Sept. 13, 1891, Mr. Zimmerman was promoted to freight conductor on the Erie and on March 21, 1928 he was promoted to passenger conductor.

He retained his rights as an Erie conductor, although from 1918 on he had a leave of absence to devote his full time to his duties in the Order of Railway Conductors. He served as secretary of the local lodge for about 40 years and first became a member of the Erie's grievance committee in 1898.

He was the Erie's delegate to national Railway Conductors' conventions a dozen times and frequently held committee positions in the conventions.

Mr. Zimmerman came to Marion in 1913 when the Erie division terminal was moved from Galton to Marion. His first wife, Mrs. Minnie Golsanleiter, to whom he was married in 1887, died in 1913. On Oct. 11, 1917 he was married to Mrs. Anna Minnerat Shaffer. Their home until they moved to Clearwater in 1938 was at 625 Grand avenue.

He was born at Galton on July 22, 1856, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Zimmerman, natives of Germany.

Mr. Zimmerman was a member of First Evangelical and Reformed church, the Order of Railway Conductors, Marion Lodge No. 889, Local Order of Moose and Kosciuszko Lodge No. 58.

Surviving with the widow, who is now at the home of Mrs. Harvey Sinning of 644 Girard avenue, are three daughters, Mrs. Bertha First of Davis street, Mrs. J. D. Slaley of Forest Lawn boulevard and Mrs. Mabel Broadwood in California, one son, Carl E. Zimmerman of Marion, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Harold Jones of Green, Conn.

Funeral Wednesday

The funeral will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Schaffner-Dentzer Co. funeral home on East Center street. Rev. E. H. Wierth, pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Fairview cemetery at Galton. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

JAILED SECOND TIME

Slabbing Victim Arrested for Failure to Pay Fine.

Clarence Stuffer, 43, of 384 Chester street is in jail for the second time as the result of slapping a woman who failed to pay a fine.

After the slapping police filed a charge of cutting with intent to wound against Alva Rosebough, also of 384 Chester street, and the case went to the June term grand jury. When Stuffer failed to answer a subpoena to testify against Rosebough, Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel filed a contempt of court charge against him in municipal court and he was placed under arrest.

Anaigned on the contempt charge, Stuffer was fined $50 and costs and was released after arranging to pay the fine in installments.

Then yesterday court officials issued another order for his arrest, charging he had failed to make a payment on the fine. He was ordered committed to the county jail.

THREE QUESTIONABLE FAIR SHOWS CLOSED
"Below Standards," Says State
Director; Bricker Approves.
By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 27—The Ohio state fair's amusement area was minus exhibits today—on orders of State Agriculture Director John T. Brown.

The director closed two penny arcades and a congress of oddities, declaring that they were "below the standards at the state fair."

He received immediate commendation from Gov. Bricker, who told Brown, "more power to you. We've invited one and a quarter million school children to enjoy the clean, educational exhibits of our fair. We're going to keep this fair clean."

Brown said that in one of the arcades he had visited there was a "sexometer." Although he didn't try it, he said "it was supposed to test your sex appeal." He added that he did see a peep show the subject of which was a woman taking a bath.

The freak show closed by Brown had about 20 exhibits including "Christine, the Crocodile Girl," "Zolla, the Human Jigsaw Puzzle," "Old Fanny Face, the Rubber Man" and "The Monkey People from Montevideo." Brown said the show was evicted recently from a county fair at Mansfield.

Gov. Bricker is scheduled to make his first official visit to the fair today in a parade which will start at the courthouse and be reviewed at the race track grandstand.

At the junior fair, the governor will receive a "state farmer" key from the president of the Future Farmers. He also will speak at a state highway patrol headquarters, appearing later at the night

Big League Leaders Hang to Top Runners, Tribe Snaps Losing Str

Indians Edge Senators, 4-3; Reds Break Even with Phillies.

Associated Press Sports Editor
By JUDSON BAILEY.

It's a tough task to shake baseball's league leaders out of the trefoils in August, even when they look ripe for a fall.

The Cleveland Indians, who once this season lost the American league lead by losing four straight seemed in danger of dropping off their precarious perch in the throes of another four-game losing streak last week end.

Lead by 3 Games

But they stopped it yesterday by edging out the Washington Senators 4-3 while both the second-place Detroit Tigers and third-place New York Yankees were kept idle by rain. As the result the Indians increased their advantage over the Tigers to three games and over the Yankees to six.

The Indians had to use Feller to turn the trick. He entered with one man out in the seventh and a runner on second base, relieving Mel Harder and didn't allow a hit the remainder of the way.

Hal Trinsky swung the bat that gave the Indians the run. With a mite on base in the first inning Trinsky drove one of Emil Dutch Leonard's offerings over the wall for his 23rd homer. Two innings later he singled another run home. The winning tally came in the sixth on Jeff Heath's single and Ken Keltner's triple.

Reds Split Pair
Meanwhile the Cincinnati Reds split a double bill with the Philadelphia Phillies without harming their 7 1/2 game advantage in the National league because the Brooklyn Dodgers also were rained out.

Carl Hubbell who at 37 is working harder than a lot of baseball youngsters made his third appearance in four days and saved the New York Giants a 10-5 verdict over the Chicago Cubs. New Yorkers manufactured 16 hits and clustered enough of them in the early innings to give Harry Gumbert an 8-1 lead. But he faltered and Hub pulled the Tarvermen out pitching five shutout innings and getting credit for his 11th victory.

Another fine relief showing was that of Boston's Jim Bagby in helping the Red Sox to a 7-6 decision over the St. Louis Browns. He allowed only two hits in the last 4-2-3 innings. Manager Joe Cronin produced three runs with a double and a single.

The Boston Bees threw more water on the St. Louis Cardinals conflagration by winning a night game 3-1 with rookie Nic Strinovich hurling five hit ball.

Moving a plaster competition taking and a coronation of the stainless steel article a few walls and has been leveled at the use in bathrooms and their main place.

Tigers Still Have Chance of Edging Tribe, Baker Says

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA Aug. 27.—Given a few better breaks, Manager Del Baker thinks his Detroit Tigers have a good chance of edging out Cleveland for the American league pennant.

"I know our chances are good," he declared after rain forced postponement of yesterday's game with the Athletics. But so are those of the other contenders—especially New York.

Baker admits the Indians have an edge in pitching and a little tighter defense, but beyond that everything favors the Tigers.

Reset all year with injuries Detroit is still without the services of Charley Gehringer, veteran second baseman who pulled a muscle in his leg.

We've just about had all the bad breaks one team could get, smiled Del and it's not likely it can get much worse.

SPRINGFIELD BEATEN IN JUNIOR LEAGION TOURNEY

CHARLOTTE N. C. Aug. 27.—Blanked 8 by 0 by Albermarle N. C. for its second defeat the Springfield (O.) team was out of the northeastern sectional eliminations of the American Legion Junior baseball tournament today.

W. Lisk, the victor, ace southpaw gave the Ohioans one scratch hit in five innings and his successor Swanner allowed only four Lisk was removed to rest for later games.

Elmer Beem Springfield's starting pitcher gave way to Shopen in the midst of a four-run attack in the sixth inning.

MEMORY OF THE MOON

CHAPTER 10
Daisy Farm
Constance leaned forward and stared at him. "You are no longer a boy," she said. "No, I've grown up. I'm a woman now. I suppose you came out to see about selling the ranch. Well, sir, you couldn't do better than sell to the Taylors. Fine men, both of them, and they've named you a fair price."

"I have no intention of selling El Cabrillo ranch," Constance said. "Fine. Now, Michael, tell me all about yourself. I think I might give you the answers. By the way, you came out to see about selling the ranch. Well, sir, you couldn't do better than sell to the Taylors. Fine men, both of them, and they've named you a fair price."

Michael Mahoney had laid that. She was a throwback. The Judge had been telling her about "the old party." Michael had played fair with his friends. He had outwitted his enemies before they were aware of it.

"Then why did she feel like this? As though half the joy in possessing El Cabrillo had gone?" "Sick, Michael!" asked the Judge anxiously. "You look pale. Not exactly," she managed, with a thin smile. "It was just that I thought the Taylors were planning something constructive, not planning to double-cross us."

"But dear child they are planning something constructive," offered the Judge, quickly. "This spur running through El Cabrillo makes it possible. 'Michael,' he leaned across and took her young hand in his old one. 'El Cabrillo, without the spur, isn't worth fifty thousand to anyone but a Cabrillo.'"

"I want you to hear me through and maybe from your own family's history you can understand how we must adjust ourselves to change. 'Let's go back to the Don Cabrillo we know the most about. He came of the leather. He raised cattle, like his father before him, for their hides; lean, tough steers that grazed on thousands of acres and needed only his peers to herd them to market. Michael's Vision

"He had top markets in Russia, the Orient and Europe. Then other countries began negotiating for that trade and prices dropped. He had saved no money, he had thought he had no need of it, and his children, despising ranch life, spent all of their time, and his money, in New York, Vienna, and Paris. 'About this time Michael Mahoney came over from Ireland; came steered, to cross the plains looking for gold. He finally landed in San Francisco with the need of a beefsteak under his belt; but beefsteak was only for men who were used to it. There was no beef in this cattle country that a man could put his teeth into.

"So Michael went prospecting for gold to buy his beefsteak. He hired out on a wagon train going to Oregon, and when the train broke up before it even reached the line, he cut over to the mountains to prospect. 'He came upon El Cabrillo, run down, the old Don defeated. 'Michael looked at the steers and had a vision. He saw them replaced with fat, sleek beef cattle, tender meat. 'Michael bargained. He offered to buy the forty-five thousand acres of ranch land and cattle, the ranch proper was not included, for thirty-five hundred dollars gold."

"But how could he?" asked Constance. "If he couldn't even buy a steak?" "You don't know your great-grandfather," opined the Judge. "Michael came up to Beachport, a landing it was then. He bargained a barber into giving him a shave and hair cut, and then he met Simon. He bargained Simon into giving him a suit of clothes. . . . and five hundred dollars gold. And Simon, who dealt in human integrity, looked into the eyes of Michael Mahoney and gave him the gold."

trees, too valuable to the future to be sacrificed, are springing up. "Next, the grazing land is reduced by boundaries, and there are no nearby State reservations. "And then, the present highly competitive market commands only the best beef at decent prices. "The Taylors recognized this change but they were helpless to cope with it. They had to own the land before they could borrow money for the next step, namely, turning El Cabrillo into a modern, well paying, Dairy Ranch. "A Dairy ranch," breathed Constance in contempt and she thought of Peter Taylor and his Dutch belted herd. He had been sure enough of owning El Cabrillo to invest in that. "Why the scorn?" inquired the Judge. "We live on milk when we come into the world, and we're usually back down to it before we leave. It's the thing for this country."
